AAU Career Development Fair attracts more than 600 participants

Al Ain University organized a virtual Career Development and Training Fair with the participation of 13 governmental and private institutions in the UAE, providing an opportunity for more than 600 participants to communicate with experts in job companies to enhance their skills and benefit from their experiences in the labor market.

Each institution made a presentation via a single virtual platform through which the participants could communicate with the most important experts in various fields such as; engineering, pharmacy, law, education, business, communication and media.

The exhibition aims to provide training opportunities for prospective graduates and job opportunities for graduates looking for work, in addition to providing professional development workshops to enhance the skills of individuals in line with the current labor market requirements.

Dr. Amer Qassem, Vice President of AAU, said, "Despite the circumstances imposed by the Corona pandemic that prevent holding this type of exhibitions that include a large number of attendees in one place, Al Ain University affirms its keenness to continue communicating between graduates. And business owners through organizing this exhibition, which contributes to gathering employers and job seekers in one virtual space.
